INTRODUCTION

Mukesh Kumar is a senior technology and product leader with around 25 years of experience delivering enterprise digital transformation across cloud, data, and AI-enabled platforms. As Vice President of Product Management & Delivery at Grant & Graham, and formerly Director of Projects & Programs at adidas, he bridges business ambition with technology execution—aligning leadership, delivery teams, and operating models to deliver measurable outcomes at scale.

HOW I CAN HELP YOUR BUSINESS

- Enterprise Digital Transformation & Modernisation: Leads end-to-end transformation initiatives across enterprise and digital platforms—aligning strategy, governance, execution, and measurable outcomes in complex, multi-stakeholder environments.
- Product Management & AI-Enabled Delivery Excellence: Shapes product vision and delivery models that turn ideas into scalable outcomes—connecting business strategy, data, AI, and cross-functional teams to deliver tangible client and customer value.
- Programme & Portfolio Governance at Scale: Establishes robust governance across scope, schedule, cost, dependencies, and risk—providing executive visibility and controlled delivery across multi-million-euro portfolios.
- Agile, SAFe & Hybrid Delivery Organisations: Builds and leads high-performing delivery organisations using Agile and hybrid methods—improving transparency, predictability, and value delivery across global teams.
